We object to the Cok increasing our rates when our house has been substantially devalued.

We are also paying substantially for the PUP and I believe that has also been a waste of our money

The value has gone down considerably in Karratha over the last few years

How can a rate increase be justified

Perhaps all this should have been considered before you went ahead and spent millions on the upgrade of the town, now you are just trying to get some money back

NO INCREASE can be justified
