

Attachment 2 State Venue Survey – compiled by the Manager Arts and Culture

At the recent Regional Arts Summit, September 2017, I spoke with managers from Albany, Bunbury, Carnarvon, Mandurah, Margaret River and Geraldton. All of them said that to relinquish the income from the provision of bar services in their centres would be unacceptable. The comment was also made that the bar service provision is an important point of contact with their patrons and any problems would reflect badly on their centres, even if it was not in their control. All the venues have an occasional licence except for Broome and Moora. These two venues operate as theatres at a very low level but host many community celebration type events as their main sources of activity.
